

Novalite 3000™

Tesla Photon Generator

The science used in the Novalite 3000™ Tesla Photon Generator was developed using the research conducted by Nikola Tesla, and George Lakhovsky who theorized that "all cells are vibrating". Royal Raymond Rife, another bioelectric pioneer and contemporary of Lakhovsky, also believed "metabolism of the human body, when perfectly balanced or poised, is susceptible to no disease." Dr. Rife confirmed that everything in the universe, living and dead, has its own resonant frequency (special vibration).

The Novalite 3000™ Tesla Photon Generator, a Tesla coil class of therapy devices, creates pulsed electromagnetic fields which deliver vibrational therapy into biological tissue, creating an energetic balance within the body.

BENEFITS

The Novalite 3000™ provides a rich, electro-magnetic field to the User. During each session, the user is bathed in a natural, micro-circuit energy that vibrates throughout the body.

The Novalite 3000™ provides four types of energy:

- Electrical
- Electro-magnetic
- Light Frequencies, and
- Radio Frequencies

These four types of energy, working together, increase the body's cells' electrical and biophotonic environment that allows dysfunctional cells to return to a more perfect and natural state.
